Study Title: Mobile Money Transaction Pattern Analysis

Institution: ICT University Cameroon — Faculty of ICT

Course: CSC 3221 — Introduction to Data Science

Principal Investigators: Student Research Group (supervised by Dr. Fotsing Kuetché)

1. Purpose of the Study

You are being invited to participate in a data science research project conducted as part of the CSC 3221 Final Assessment at ICT University. The purpose of this study is to analyze mobile money transaction patterns among users in Cameroon to better understand behavioral segments and factors that drive financial activity. Results will be used for academic purposes only.

2. What Data Will Be Collected

- Demographic information: age range, gender, profession, education level, household size, geographic zone.
- Mobile money usage characteristics: provider (MTN/Orange), frequency of use, primary purpose of use, years of usage.
- Transaction summary statistics: monthly transaction counts, approximate amounts, transaction types (no actual account numbers or PINs).
- Smartphone ownership and connectivity details.

3. How Data Will Be Used and Protected

- All data will be strictly anonymized. Your name and phone number will NEVER be recorded.
- You will be assigned a random identifier (e.g., USER_001) replacing all personal identifiers.
- Data will be stored in encrypted files on password-protected devices.
- Data will not be shared with any third party or published publicly in identifiable form.
- Data will only be used for academic analysis within this course project.
- All datasets will be deleted or securely archived after the project submission.

4. Your Rights

- Participation is entirely voluntary. You may decline to answer any question.
- You have the right to withdraw your participation at any time without penalty.
- You may request the deletion of your data by contacting the research team.
- You will face no negative consequences of any kind from participation or refusal.

5. Risks and Benefits

There are no anticipated risks from participating in this study. No sensitive financial data (account numbers, PINs, exact balances) will be collected. The potential benefit is contributing to academic research that may inform financial inclusion policy in Cameroon.
